FTP

FTP (File Transfer Protocol)

FTP is a client-server architecture.

- 141.164.60.30
- new.studyforus.com

FTP uses two separate connections.

- Control connection: ()+
 -) sfu FTP 1 sfu1 .
- Data connection:

FTP uses two separate connections, one for control and one for data transfer. The control connection is established first, and the data connection is established after the control connection is established. The control connection is used to send commands and receive responses, and the data connection is used to transfer files.
